Legal Adviser,
Africa Regional Programme

The International Commission of Jurists (ICJ) is a worldwide network of judges and lawyers united in affirming international law and rule of law principles that advance human rights.

We are recruiting a Legal Adviser to assist with the implementation of ICJ’s ESC Projects through leading the ICJ Africa’s work on the Right to Education and assisting in implementing its work on Disability Rights and Access to Justice regionally and globally. The ideal candidate will be a dedicated human rights lawyer with a comprehensive knowledge of international human rights, in particular of socio-economic rights, and practical experience of human rights legal advocacy and the legal system of the region.

This is a full-time, short-term position, starting in June 2022 and ending on 31 December 2022. The position is ideally based in Johannesburg, other locations in Southern Africa will be considered.

The ideal candidate will have a university degree in Law, with extensive knowledge of policy formulation, domestic human rights law, international human rights law, and 3-5 years of legal experience at the national, regional, or international levels. The candidate needs to have demonstrable experience working for or extensively engaging with justice sector actors and/or human rights NGOs. We are looking for someone who is a potential leader with strong interpersonal skills, passionate about human rights, with a strong commitment to gender and racial equality and diversity. The candidate must be a team player who is keen to engage in public advocacy, and work in a collaborative way to deliver high-quality work on time.
